2. Miss Dietrich called concerning shipment of SSU records. She was advised that a few days' delay was occasioned by packing time and possibly other cargo priorities.

3. The query concerning orientation and training requirements for this office was answered orally by telephone to [redacted]. The general points included (1) new employees under GS-5 level should receive some type of orientation or indoctrination course, (2) those attorneys who will come in contact with the covert offices should receive training in the courses conducted by TRD under [redacted] and (3) as a long-range and very general thought there was mentioned the possibility of attorneys of the office receiving additional professional training in private law firms.

6. Various aspects of a proposed reply to the letter from Mr. Gray to General Smith were discussed by Mr. Peel, Mr. Saunders and Mr. Warner concerning super grades for the Psychological Strategy Board. Since certain legal aspects were involved, this office will prepare an initial draft, together with a covering memorandum.

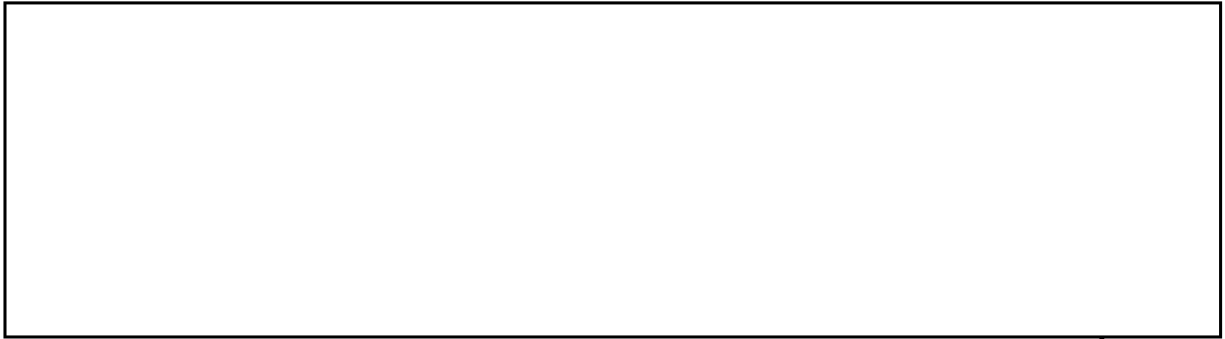

7. [redacted] questioned the legality of a CIA-prepared map being published by a university professor. He advised that Security had no objection where references or by-lines
